

We Want You... to Meet Our Healthcare Providers

Naomi Hodde, MD

Specialty: Primary Care Internal Medicine

Education: Temple University School of Medicine 2002; University of Washington Internship and Residency in Internal Medicine 2005. She graduated from Middlebury College, Class of 1994.

Background: Naomi has worked in a variety of settings in Internal Medicine and as a hospitalist in Seattle. She is excited to now focus on primary care medicine, which she feels is a unique opportunity to connect with her patients and their families.

"I have dreamed of living here since attending Middlebury College...I have 3 boys and I love hockey!"
